What to bring

Clayoquot Wilderness Resort is located in the rugged and remote Pacific Northwest, so please pack comfortable, functional clothing and come prepared for the chance of rain. Attire is wilderness casual and laid back. Average daily temperatures range from 10-18C (68-72F) with overnight lows between 10-15C (52-62F). All tents are heated by gas woodstoves, and the hearth fires are always burning.

DINING ATTIRE: There is no dress code for the Cookhouse Restaurant. You are welcome to dress as casually as jeans and a t-shirt or dress it up as much as you like!

PACKING LIST

Camera, batteries, chargers
Reusable water bottle (we have stainless steel bottles available if you don't have one).
Sunglasses, hats, croakies
Toiletries
Medications, Ibuprofen and allergy relief
Waterproof hiking shoes or hiking boots
Running shoes, sandals (optional)
Bathing suit for hot tubs, saunas and Penny Falls swimming
Athletic and/or yoga wear (optional)
Base layer top and bottom – the lightweight sort for skiing is perfect
Warm fleece layers (eg: vest, sweater, jacket)
Gore-Tex or other rain and windproof jacket
Trekking/outdoor pants and shorts
Jeans or long pants for horseback riding
Moisture-wicking sports shirts – long and short sleeve

WHAT WE PROVIDE

Rain pants, jackets, boots and umbrellas
Toques (beanies) and gloves
Horseback riding boots and helmets
Floater suits for wildlife viewing, life jackets, wetsuits for surfing and stand up paddle boarding
Fishing gear and waders
Mountain bikes and helmets

WILD RETREAT GIFT SHOP

Our Wild Retreat gift shop carries a great selection of CWR logo wear, as well as outerwear, fleece, base layers, and accessory items from celebrated Canadian outerwear designer Arc'teryx. Keepsake items like ceramic mugs, teddy bears, children's books, local jewelry, and skin care products are also available. Any purchases you make at the resort, that may take you over our floatplane baggage limit, can be shipped to you at home, without any trouble at all.